

Anthem For Doomed Youth

Wilfred Owen

- What candles may be held to speed them all?
Not in the hands of boys, but in their eyes
Shall shine the holy glimmers of good-byes.
The pallor of girls' brows shall be their pall;
Their flowers the tenderness of patient minds,
14. And each slow dusk a drawing-down of blinds.

[2]

- What passing-bells for these who die as cattle?
— Only the monstrous anger of the guns.
Only the stuttering rifles' rapid rattle
Can patter out their hasty orisons.
No mockeries now for them; no prayers nor bells;
Nor any voice of mourning save the choirs, —
The shrill demented choirs of wailing shells;
8. And bugles calling for them from sad shires.
